ALLIEDBARTON®
SECURITY SERVICES

Local Response | National Support

Our Core Purpose

To serve and secure the people, homes and businesses of our communities.

Leaders Always Look Ahead.

Today, great security means staying a step ahead. It is critical to maintain a proactive awareness at all times.

At AlliedBarton, we take security very seriously. No matter where we serve, whether within a business or community, we strive to be the most responsive security services firm in the industry.

As a service company, our employees are our number one asset and most important resource. From security officers on the front line of our local response efforts to our team of security experts in our national support network, AlliedBarton is working as a team to exceed customer expectations.

Local Response | National Support[®]

It's what sets us apart.

At AlliedBarton we understand that in order to provide outstanding, consistent security services, it is critical to meet our customers' needs. The value we provide is our ability to deliver responsive security services at the local level with the benefit of our national support network.

Local Response

No matter where or when security services are needed, there's a peace of mind knowing that those responding to your security needs are members of the community they are serving. Our local responsiveness stems from accessible district teams in your community who oversee all services and provide support to managers assigned to customer sites. At the root of AlliedBarton's success are the 50,000+ security officers who passionately serve with a vested interest in what happens within their communities.

National Support

Beyond the security services provided on the local level, AlliedBarton provides a layer of national support to help ensure protection and quality. With more than 100 regional and district offices across the country, AlliedBarton devotes national resources to recruiting, training, technology and experienced management teams.

This comprehensive Local Response | National Support approach is what gives us the competitive edge in the security services industry. We hear it every day from our customers — the importance of working with a local team with the added benefits of a national network is vital.

The Superior Security Officer.

At AlliedBarton, we understand that our customers put their trust in us to provide quality security officers to represent their organization. Professionalism in both actions and appearance are of utmost importance. We take great pride and direct enormous talent in making sure our security officers do their jobs for our customers.

AlliedBarton Culture

We believe culture drives quality and success. Employees are expected to understand, execute and be accountable for their respective roles. We support and empower our employees in their efforts and, in return, employees take pride in both the organization and the impact of their professionalism and integrity. With industry-leading security officer retention rates, AlliedBarton is able to focus on developing excellence with a reliable, proactive workforce.

AlliedBarton Service Promise

AlliedBarton security officers adhere to our quality standards, which are designed to provide consistent service and value to our customers. We take pride in the in-depth training we provide our security officers as well as what they bring to the job on a daily basis.

Dress for Success

At AlliedBarton, all security officers maintain a professional look. Our uniforms offer a variety of styles appropriate for specific duties. Uniforms can also be customized to give clients the opportunity to advance their brand image.

Security Officer Quality Standards

AlliedBarton Security Officers are always expected to:

- › Maintain a friendly and professional demeanor
- › Be good communicators
- › Report to work on time
- › Maintain a neat, professional appearance
- › Understand and successfully execute Post Orders
- › Manage typical issues and problems professionally

Providing the Best Trained Security Officers in the Industry.

Search & Screen

It all starts with recruitment. The AlliedBarton recruitment processes are built on our Local Response | National Support philosophy. We tap into local talent through resources such as civic organizations, veterans groups, job fairs and police departments to find individuals with the right skills. The national support of our automated Applicant Tracking System allows us to streamline efforts to provide qualified personnel on-site in a timely manner.

Once quality candidates are identified, each potential AlliedBarton candidate must successfully complete rigorous drug and background screenings. Only those applicants who excel in skill testing, and demonstrate motivation and initiative during the interview process are invited to join the AlliedBarton team.

Develop & Retain

There's good reason why AlliedBarton boasts one of the lowest security officer turnover rates in the industry. We value our employees and follow through on our commitment to their development with excellent compensation, benefits and acknowledgement. We provide meaningful benefits packages to our employees, and offer plenty of awards and incentives to reward those who perform.

Benefits Packages Include

- › Medical/Dental/Vision insurance
- › Paid vacation
- › Competitive wages
- › Paycards

Local Response.

AlliedBarton goes beyond simply providing security officers — we are constantly thinking about our customers' businesses. Our proactive approach to managing accounts allows our management team, support staff and security officers to work together to ensure the best possible security environment. This extensive management support system is one more reason why AlliedBarton maintains many long-term client relationships — many lasting decades.

Covering The Details

AlliedBarton's strategically located district offices are the center of all local customer coordination. Here, customer security needs are assessed, fulfilled and overseen. The district offices support all of the actions of the local accounts in their day-to-day customer service by directing all planning, hiring, training and transition functions.

Empowered Management Focused on Your Account

AlliedBarton account managers make a critical difference in the functioning of security programs. Committed to understanding each customer's company, culture and security needs, AlliedBarton account managers provide an expert resource to make sure security initiatives are implemented according to plan. In addition to managing the daily activity of the security team, account managers direct incident response, help to reduce risk and solve daily issues — allowing our customers to concentrate on higher priorities.

Seamless Transition

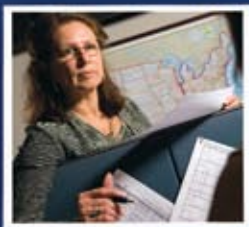

AlliedBarton understands the concerns involved in transitioning a security program. The key to our success is a sound transition plan that includes:

- › Review and assessment of security personnel needs
- › Timetable and measurable goals
- › Assignment of transition management team
- › Security force deployment
- › Development of security officer instruction and training manual
- › Pre-assignment security officer recruiting and screening
- › Basic and on-site training
- › Security officer review and testing
